A St. Petersburg letter of November 16th to The Philadelphia Press says: This city has been in a turmoil of excitement for the last few days Schmidt, who met his death at the hands of Prince Grousinsky, a Russian noble of once great wealth and is fluonce. The murder was committed in tom of punishment given to nobility for such acts. In former days a few hundred rubles could make up for the killing of a serf, and a few thousands for the destruction of a free man. Dr. Schwidt was a real of the service of the ser of the medical college of Beriin, and came to establish himself in Russia in 1869. As his German diploms would not allow aim to practice medicine in Russia, he entered the college of Moscow and mastered the Russian language; out on the following year he was compelled to return to Germany. TONIC AND STRENGTHENING Prince, the doctor sent one of his jude is with whom he was a received in the dictine, but left a lucrative practice for my present profession, forty years ago, it was 10 in the morning. Catching eight of the prince, the doctor sent one of his jude is with whom he was a received me.

> The prince no sooner caught sight of him than he climbed up on an empty barrel that stood by, broke a pane of glass, and leveling his revolver, fired at the doctor, striking him right in the shoulder. The wounded man opened the door and rushed into the vestibule shouting for help. But the prince was on the alert and met the cateriars. For deafters and earlier that alert and met the rache it has done wonders to my certain knowledge. It is the only medicine dubbed patent medicine that I have ever felt like recommending, and I am very you that I would not be without it in my buse for any consideration. I am now suffering with a pain like rheumatism in my right limb, and nothing relieves me like T.c. 103. Eelectric Oil." Dr. E. F. Crane, Corry, Pa. prince was on the alert and met the Crane, Corry, Pa. doctor in the hall, and drawing the revolver again, he fired a second shot, and then a third. The two bullets ledged one in the right side of the chest, the second in the neck. At the second shot Schmiet fell.
